Information

What would happen to Liechtenstein if there were no more people? Swiss illustrator Angelo Boog put this hypothetical question to himself. The answer can be found in his three collages which provide the motifs for the new three-part souvenir sheet entitled "Liechtenstein without us" (value CHF 2.00 per stamp). The collages depict buildings, monuments, everyday objects and sections of landscape from the Principality in an imagined future devoid of human beings in twenty, one hundred and five hundred years from now. The disintegration of buildings, objects and cultivated landscape is tangible, nature spreads its tentacles and reclaims its space, numerous new animal species establish habitats. The artist was inspired by American author Alan Weisman who tackled this subject head-on in his book "The World Without Us" published in 2007. To find out what would happen on Earth if humans suddenly vanished, Weisman visited many places around the world and spoke with scientific experts from various disciplines. With the help of biologists, archaeologists, botanists, anthropologists and philosophers he contemplated a world of the future which he describes in detail in his book.

A selection of postcards on Christmas themes, the originals of which can be viewed in the Principality of Liechtenstein's postal museum, adorn this year's traditional Christmas stamps. The four motifs Lamp-light (value CHF 0.85), Exchanging Christmas Presents (value CHF 1.00), City Scene (value CHF 1.50) and Winter Walk (value CHF 2.00) will be issued as self-adhesive stamps on sheets of 20. The typography of the Christmas cards, most of which date from the early years of the 20th century, was finished using hot foil stamping in gold.

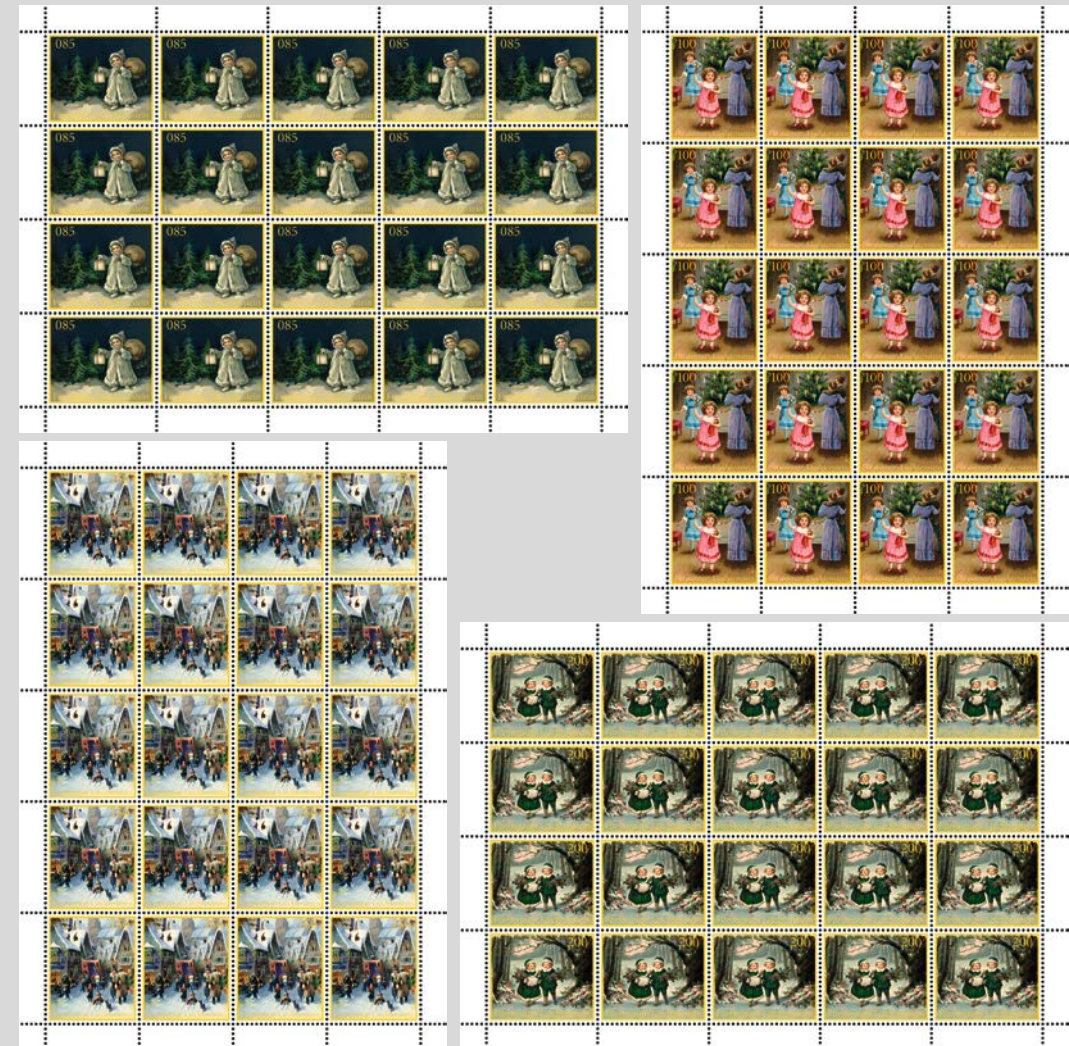

The Christmas card tradition can be traced back to 1843 when print shop owner Henry Cole in London hired an illustrator to create a Christmas card bearing the words "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to You". The artist took his inspiration from the shape of an altarpiece and composed a picture of a family celebration with a border of branches and vines, conveying an atmosphere of good cheer and kindness. Besides these nostalgic Christmas cards, the Principality of Liechtenstein's postal museum in Vaduz has on display a representative cross-section of the entire Liechtenstein philately since the issuance of the first stamps in 1912.

Also this year the Philately is continuing the artistically designed series of Chinese zodiac signs. For the "Year of the Rooster 2017" (value CHF 2.00), it is issuing a new self-adhesive special stamp depicting a filigree silhouette that was created using the most up to date laser technology. The sheet of four stamps which is in red – the Chinese symbol for good luck – is moreover cut in the shape of a rooster. All of the imprints were applied in high-quality gold foil.

The fascination of Chinese culture lies in its diversity, one aspect of which is astrology with its twelve zodiac signs. The Chinese year 2017 lasts from 28 January 2017 to 15 February 2018 and stands under the rule of the rooster. This zodiac sign is a synonym for the born observer. As astrologists know, in the Year of the Rooster it is easier for a person to sharpen his sixth sense, to observe and to think before acting. According to the Chinese horoscope, those born in the Year of the Rooster have the benefit of two opposing character traits: diligent and down-to-earth during the day when work needs to be done, attractive and extrovert in the evening – at least that's what the experts say.

After the dragon, the snake, the horse, the sheep and the monkey, the "Chinese Signs of the Zodiac: Rooster" has now also appeared as an exclusive, numbered printed sheet.

To protect the sheets from damage during transport, good transport packaging is required which, unfortunately, has led to slightly higher shipping costs:

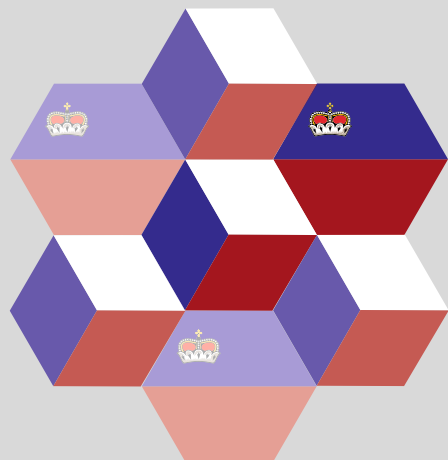

- Switzerland CHF 36.00
- Europe CHF 63.00
- Overseas CHF 83.00

You can obtain the printed sheets without additional charge at the exhibition stands or collect them from Philately Liechtenstein, Zollstrasse 58 in Schaan against cash payment.

A visit will be well worthwhile.

The postal organisations of Austria, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, Switzerland and Germany have worked together repeatedly for years. This cooperation has again expressed itself this year in a joint project for Christmas. The current Christmas stamps of these countries will be united in the philatelic commemorative set "Christmas Multilateral 2016" full of Christmas spirit. For decades, the four German-speaking countries have planned special Christmas issues every year. These stamps serve particularly to provide festive postmarks for greetings and postal items at Christmas but are also very popular as collectors' items in stamp collections.
